

WHO SHOULD I CALL ABOUT COVID-19?

I am not feeling well & have respiratory symptoms, what should I do?

Please stay home for at least 7 days after you first became ill, or 72 hours after your fever has resolved and symptoms are improving, whichever is longer.

You should consult with your health care provider if you have:

- Fever, cough, trouble breathing, or other flu-like symptoms that are not better or are worsening after 24-48 hours.
- Mild symptoms and are pregnant or immunosuppressed or are an older adult with chronic health conditions

Please don't call the health department about getting testing

- Your health care provider will determine if you should be tested, and will call the health department if needed
- Health departments do not collect specimens for COVID-19

I think I need immediate medical attention, who should I call?

- If you need immediate medical attention, and you think you may have COVID-19, please call ahead to your health care provider before going in for care. This will allow them to take the right steps to protect themselves and other patients
- If you think you are having a medical emergency, call 911; if you have been exposed to COVID-19, notify dispatch personnel so emergency medical services personnel can take steps to protect themselves
