If you have safety concerns, contact your local health department." At a physical display, notice shall be a placard. If you have safety concerns, contact your local health department." See page 30 on the Cottage Food Guide Document for details, including on allergen labeling requirements.

Special Labeling Opportunity for Local Ingredients

Request for a labeling exemption:

Cottage food operators may request an exemption from product packaging for foods that are not easily packaged (i.e. wedding cakes), for foods that are more suited to bulk containers or display cases (i.e donuts or scones), or for other reasons. If the exemption is granted, the cottage food producer must include all labeling requirements on a receipt or similar document that is delivered to that consumer with the product, and the cottage food warning sign must still be present at point of sale. The local health department has the authority to accept or deny the exemption request.

Request for product packaging exemption

Please list the products for which you are requesting an exemption and provide a rationale:

Section 7: Checklist of Required Information

- Copies of all valid Food Service Protection Manager Certificates
- If on a private water supply, a copy of water test results showing satisfactory E. coli/Coliform bacteria results
- A product label for each product category selected in Section 2, demonstrating that you are complying correctly with labeling regulations
- Laboratory testing for other products that may otherwise require time/temperature control for safety.
- If producing acidified or fermented foods (pickles, kraut, kimchi, etc.), one of the following:
 - A. A completed food safety plan and representative pH Test for each product with a different food safety process

Example: Delia makes pickled cucumbers, pickled beets, kimchi, and hot sauces. Each of these four products requires a different process to make. She will need to submit a food safety plan and pH test for all four products.

Example: Janae makes a pickled cucumber recipe that has five different variations (one with dill, one with jalapenos, one with more sugar, one with stevia, and one with ginger). Although the recipes vary slightly, the pickling process is the same for all five recipes. Janae must submit just one food safety plan and a pH test for at least one pickle recipe as evidence that her process is safe. A pH test and food safety plan are not required for all five recipe variations.
 - B. An approved recipe from the USDA National Center for Home Food Preservation or the cooperative extension office of any state.

If producing canned tomatoes or canned tomato products (i.e. salsa, pasta sauce, etc), one of the following:

- A. pH test for each canned tomato recipe
